Anthony Basile is an assurance services partner in the Firm's Capital Markets and Technology & Life Sciences Practice groups. He has more than 20 years of experience working with public and private companies in the areas of accounting, auditing, advisory services, corporate taxation, mergers and acquisitions, capital financing transactions, and business restructuring. He has developed a reputation for successfully guiding clients through the intricacies of complex accounting and reporting issues, as well as closing mergers, acquisitions, and capital financing transactions.

Mr. Basile primarily works with mid- to small-cap companies, many of which are involved with mergers and acquisitions and capital financing transactions. He also advises private companies going public on capital raising strategies, reverse mergers, initial public offerings and the securities registration process.

Some of his more detailed responsibilities include handling periodic filing requirements, reviews and private placement memorandums and other exempt offerings as well as Sarbanes-Oxley Section 404. He provides clients with expert guidance through the compliance process, ensuring they remain compliant with SEC regulations.

Prior to joining the Firm in 2005, he was an audit manager for a regional accounting and consulting firm.
