Patrick O'Reilly is a principal in the Firm's Financial Accounting and Advisory services (FAAS) practice. Mr. O'Reilly serves his clients by managing all aspects of their accounting and finance operations, with an emphasis on improving internal controls and operational efficiency. His 30 years of relevant experience covers nearly all aspects of public accounting. His experience also includes food and beverage, real estate management, medical practices, law firm administration, architecture and engineering firms.

Mr. O'Reilly is knowledgeable in taxation, business plan formulation and implementation, human resources management, payroll, benefits administration, insurance, retirement plans, and all manners of financial accounting software applications. He primarily functions as an outsourced CFO or Controller to clients of varying sizes. The work performed is often an outsourced placement but can be applied in interim situations as well and service levels can be scaled up or down depending on the needs.

Mr. O'Reilly and his wife own a local restaurant and bar in Scarborough, ME where they live and he is an active multi-sport high school and collegiate official.
