Hillary, Chelsea Clinton, Erin Brockovich keynote Marcum events

By: Claude Solnik May 16, 2018

Former First Lady, Secretary of State and New York Senator Hillary Rodham Clinton will be the keynote speaker at the Marcum Women's Forum in New York City on September 14.

And Chelsea Clinton, vice chair of the Clinton Foundation, who spoke at Marcum's New York forum in 2017, will keynote this year in Boston on November 12 and San Francisco on December 6.

Manhattan-based Marcum, with large Melville operations, said Erin Brockovich will give the keynote address at Marcum Women's Forum in Coral Gables, FL, on May 31 and Chicago on October 19.

In addition, Jeanne Rizzo, president of Breast Cancer Prevention Partners and a recurring Marcum presenter, will be a featured speaker at the Florida forum.

"We are privileged to be hosting the Honorable Hillary Clinton and to be welcoming Chelsea Clinton, Erin Brockovich, and Jeanne Rizzo back to the Marcum Women's Forum," Jeffrey Weiner, the firm's chairman and chief executive officer, said. "This event has become a highlight on our annual calendar as we hear from some of today's most outstanding women leaders about the pressing issues facing women of all socio-economic backgrounds."

The Marcum Women's Forum launched in 2016 "as a platform for high-achieving women to expand their thinking about what it means to work towards a truly egalitarian society," said Rorrie Gregorio, national leader of Marcum's family office practice.

The Marcum Women's Forum is a breakfast event geared to high net worth and executive women, featuring women speakers on topics essential to women's well-being. Attendance is by invitation only.
